I have had a number of influential activities of my career that do not show up prominently in my CV. I explain them here to highlight other important contributions to the field and their connections to my research.

Journal of Second Language Pronunciation

I proposed this journal and became the founding editor when John Benjamins agreed to publish it. The journal is the first specialized journal for second language pronunciation research (that is, research into what happens when language learners have to negotiate the pronunciation of a new language). The journal has now published three years (6 issues), has a sustainable number of submissions to move from 2 to 3 issues per year, and has applied for a scholarly impact factor. The journal has provided visibility and a disciplinary identity for second language pronunciation research.

Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching Conference (PSLLT)

I started this conference at ISU in 2009. It is a unique conference, the only one focused on the interface of second language pronunciation research and teaching in a variety of languages. The first 3 conferences took place at Iowa State, as did the 5th and the 10th (in 2018). This conference serves as a meeting place for researchers and teachers studying second language pronunciation. In the first year, we had 65 participants from 11 countries. In 2019, there were 261 participants from 26 countries. This conference has a close correlation with greatly increased research for me but more importantly for the fast-growing field of second language pronunciation

PSLLT Proceedings

As part of the PSLLT Conference, we have published an electronic peer-reviewed conference proceedings each year. When the conference started, there were far fewer opportunities to publish second language pronunciation research than now, and none that fit this kind of middle type of publication (not a journal, but far more rigorous than a newsletter). The over 300 articles thus far are freely available, are hosted at Iowa State, and are widely read and cited throughout the world. The success of the proceedings also demonstrated the market for a professional journal.

Pronunciationforteachers.com

This is my most recent initiative. The website is intended to provide reliable information about pronunciation teaching and research that supports certain instructional practices and questions others. Pronunciation teaching is of wide interest on the internet, but is unfortunately often badly misrepresented and subject to charlatans of all stripes. The website, when fully populated, will provide a badly needed monitor for reliable research-based information needed by teachers of all kinds.

Special issue of TESOL Quarterly on Pronunciation (2005)

This was a highly influential special issue that I conceived and edited in 2005. TESOL Quarterly is one of the most influential teaching and research journals in the field, and this special issue put the field of second language pronunciation on the map in a way that I never dreamed of. The articles in the issue have over 4300 citations and the special issue helped frame the field in succeeding years.

Professional Books

One of the growing aspects of second language pronunciation is professional books. I have edited several books and portions of books in the past several years that have led the way in the increasing numbers of second language pronunciation publication published by major presses in the field. In the first, I co-edited the 50-article phonetics and phonology section of the 10-volume Encyclopedia of Applied Linguistics (Carol Chapelle, editor). I then proposed and co-edited Social Dynamics in Second Language Accent (published by DeGruyter), followed by the co-edited book that has sold the best, The Handbook of English Pronunciation (Blackwell). In 2017, my co-edited 4-volume book on Pronunciation in Routledge's Critical Concepts in Linguistics series was published. I published a scholarly monograph published in 2018 by Cambridge University Press, Intelligibility, oral communication and the teaching of pronunciation. I also, with co-editors, have a new book in process: Second Language Pronunciation: Bridging the gap between research and teaching (Wiley Blackwell). This book deliberately focuses on an area that is often talked about but rarely explored in depth, the research-teaching connection in second language pronunciation.

- “Teaching contrastive stress for varied speaking levels.” Presentation given at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, Flagstaff, AZ USA, Sept. 14, 2019. Presentation given with Greta Muller Levis and Sinem Sonsaat.
- “Light or night? Alternation of /n/ and /l/ for Chinese language learners.” Presentation given at New Sounds, Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan. August 29, 2019. Presentation given with Wei Zhang.
- “Learner awareness of their segmental errors when listening to a model voice.” Presentation given at English Pronunciation: Issues and Practices conference, University of Macedonia, Skopje, Macedonia. May 17-18, 2019. With Ivana Rehman, Taylor Anne Barriuso, Alif Silpachai, Evgeny Chukharev-Hudilainen, John Levis.
- “Golden speaker builder, an interactive tool for pronunciation training: User studies.” Presentation given at English Pronunciation: Issues and Practices conference, University of Macedonia, Skopje, Macedonia. May 17-18, 2019. With Sinem Sonsaat, Evgeny Chukharev-Hudilainen, Ivana Rehman, Alif Silpachai, Guanlong Zhao, Shaojin Ding, Christopher Liberatore, John Levis, Ricardo Gutierrez-Osuna.
- ### “How pronunciation research and teaching can inform each other.” Invited plenary for English Pronunciation: Issues and Practices conference, University of Macedonia, Skopje, Macedonia. May 17-18, 2019.
- “Pronunciation errors: A systematic approach to diagnosis.” Poster presentation at L2 pronunciation research workshop: Bridging the gap between research and practice, Barcelona, Spain June 6-8, 2019. With Ivana Lučić Rehman, Alif Silpachai, Guanlong Zhao, & Ricardo Gutierrez-Osuna.
- “Explicit and implicit training on the production of silent letters in English.” Presentation given at American Association of Applied Linguistics, Atlanta GA, USA, March 12, 2019. Presentation given with Sinem Sonsaat.

“Mutual intelligibility and the centrality of pronunciation in English language teaching.”

Invited plenary for International Conference on English Teaching and Learning under Globalization, Tainan Normal University, Tainan, Taiwan. October 18, 2018. 18

- “Design and evaluation of a computational system for learner-customized high variability training on segmental perception in words and sentences.” Presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, September 6-8, 2018. Presenters: Manman Qian, John Levis, & Evgeny Chukharev-Hudilainen.
- “The role of speaker identity in High Variability Phonetic Training.” Poster presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, September 6-8, 2018. Presenters: Alif Silpachai, Evgeny Chukharev-Hudilainen, John M. Levis, Tatiana A. Klepikova, Gabi Mitchell.
- “Golden Speaker: Learner experience with computer-assisted pronunciation practice.” Presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, September 6- 8, 2018. Presenters: John Levis, Ricardo Gutierrez-Osuna, Evgeny Chukharev-Hudilainen, Sinem Sonsaat, Alif Silpachai, & Ivana Lučić.
- “Teaching pronunciation: Four truths and a handful of lies.” Invited Plenary at Exploring Language Education: Global and Local Perspectives. Stockholm, Sweden. June 2018.
- “Cinderella no more! Leaving victimhood behind.” Invited presentation at International Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) conference, Chicago, IL. March 2018.
- “Golden speakers for pronunciation training: Using the L2 learner’s voice as a model for computer-assisted practice.” Paper given at the American Association for Applied Linguistics, Chicago, IL, March 2018. Presented with Ricardo Gutierrez-Osuna, Evgeny Chukharev-Hudilainen, and Sinem Sonsaat.
- “The influence of task complexity and task sequencing on L2 pronunciation accuracy and fluency measurements.” Paper given at the American Association for Applied Linguistics, Chicago, IL, March 2018. Presented with Sinem Sonsaat.
- “The intelligibility of second language speech: What leads to improvement and what does not. Invited presentation at University of Nebraska Omaha, February, 2018.

2017

- “Practical approaches to teaching suprasegmentals.” Presentation given at California Teachers of English as a Second Language (CATESOL). October 19-22, 2018. Santa Clara, CA.
- “Why pronunciation is so important for language teaching.” Invited talk at the Institute for World Languages, University of Virginia. Charlottesville, VA. October 12, 2017.
- “Building hybrid pronunciation models for L2 pronunciation training.” Presentation given at Technology in Second Language Learning and Teaching conference, Iowa State University, Sept. 22-23, 2017. Presented with Ricardo Gutierrez-Osuna, Shaojin Ding, Guanlong Dong, Chris Liberatore, Evgeny Chukharev-Hudalainen, and Sinem Sonsaat.
- “Pronunciationforteachers.com – A resource for pronunciation teaching and research.” Poster presentation given at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT, August 31-Sept. 1, 2017. Presented with Sinem Sonsaat.

- “Prominence and information structure in pronunciation teaching materials.” Poster presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT, August 31-Sept. 1, 2017. Presented with Alif Silpachai.
- “Fluency and comprehensibility of 1st year and continuing graduate students from Outer and Expanding Circle Countries.” Presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT, August 31-Sept. 1, 2017. Presented with Sinem Sonsaat and Ziwei Zhou.
- “This is how a gondolier gallops”–Pronunciation and unintelligibility in International Teaching Assistant (ITA) presentations.” Presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT, August 31-Sept. 1, 2017. Presented with Greta Muller Levis.
- “Golden Speaker Builder: an interactive online tool for L2 learners to build pronunciation models.” Presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, UT, August 31-Sept. 1, 2017. Presented with Ricardo Gutierrez-Osuna, Shaojin Ding, Guanlong Dong, Chris Liberatore, Evgeny Chukharev- Hudalainen, and Sinem Sonsaat.
- “Pronunciation for a purpose.” Presentation at English Pronunciation: Issues and Practices, Caen, France, May 17, 2017. Presentation given with Greta Muller Levis.
- “Pronunciation for the general language classroom.” Invited workshop at Kansas State University English Language Program. May 11, 2017.
- “The effect of orthography on bilingual learners’ pronunciation.” Presentation at American Association for Applied Linguistics, March, 2017. Portland, Oregon. Presented with Sinem Sonsaat.
- “Intelligibility and phonological information in a spoken corpus of ITA presentations.” Presentation at American Association for Applied Linguistics, March, 2017. Portland, Oregon.
- “The effect of learner-customized high-variability training on English learners’ perception of vowels and consonants in words and sentences.” Presentation at American Association for Applied Linguistics, March, 2017. Portland, Oregon. Presented with Mandy Qian and Evgeny Chukharev-Hudilainen.
- “Teaching world languages: Attracting diverse students to linguistics.” Poster presentation at Linguistic Society of America, January 2017, Austin, Texas. Presented with Greta Muller Levis.

2016

- “Collecting phonological and intelligibility information from a spoken corpus.” Presentation at American Association for Corpus Linguistics. September 18, 2016. Ames, Iowa.
- “Technology and the intelligibility-based classroom.” Invited plenary at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching Conference. August 12, 2016. Calgary, Canada.
- “Contrastive focus and improved fluency and comprehensibility: A study of intermediate English learners.” Poster presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching Conference. August 11-12, 2016. Calgary, Canada. Presented with Greta Muller Levis.
- “A self-access computer-assisted HVPT application for learner diagnostic and perceptual training on English segmentals.” Presentation at Pronunciation in Second Language

- Learning and Teaching Conference. August 11-12, 2016. Calgary, Canada. Presented with Manman Qian and Evgeny Chukharev-Hudalainen.
- “Intonation bridging activities: Meaningful practice for final intonation. Pronunciation in Second Language Learning and Teaching, Calgary, AB. August, 2016. Presented with Greta Muller Levis.
- “Instruction on contrastive focus and improved fluency for intermediate English learners. New Sounds 2016, Aarhus, Denmark, June 2016. Presented with Greta Muller Levis.
